Pray for 30 Days

Prayer is so necessary, like the air we breathe. You don't think about breathing, you just do it. But ask those with asthma how important it is to breathe, and you will discover its value. Get the wind knocked out of you and you will see how critical air is to your daily life...just like prayer. See if you can take my challenge. Make it a point to pray for 30 days straight. Can you do it? Will you do it? Prayer at meal-times don't count. These prayers have to be on your own. Go face-to-face with God in prayer and see if you can do it for 30 days.

To prime the pump, here are some things you can pray for:

1. Walk your neighborhood and pray for the people who live there to become Christians
2. For your family, wherever they may live
3. To thank God for your blessings
4. To not complain of your circumstances
5. To be content with the physical things you have and not hunger for more
6. To be devoted to God
7. To not fall into temptation
8. To set a good example
9. For your church family
10. For wisdom in how to handle your trials of life, and how to be a help to others who are going through trials in their lives

DON'T FORGET TO SILENCE YOUR PHONE DURING WORSHIP

Richard Carroz

is back home from the hospital now, but please keep him in your prayers as he recovers. Cards can be sent to Richard at:

Sandie Owens

keep her in your prayers as she faces several struggles in her life right now. She could very much use the prayers and encouragement of her Christian family. Cards can be sent to her at:

Jason and Kim Vogelsang

are both struggling with various health problems right now and could use our prayers. Encouragement cards can be sent to them at:

Kay Shepard

continues to ask for our prayers to heal from her skin infection. She wants us all to know how much she appreciates our prayers and looks forward to being with us again. Encouragement cards can be sent to Kay at:

Ashton Balyeat (Evan Romo's bro-in-law) who lives in San Antonio has been placed on the list for a kidney transplant. Please pray that they will find a match soon.

C.H. Pippin (Cindy Thompson's dad) was back in the hospital at Barnes St. Louis last week. He went home on Wednesday. His doctors are still working with his medications to try and keep him stabilized until they can go in and correct the issues with his pacemaker. Pray for him and his continued health struggles.

Janet Colvett (Sherra's step-mom) underwent a mastectomy last week. The surgery went well. The doctors did find a spot of cancer, but thankfully it was encased in a calcium deposit and they believe they removed all of it. She is at home recovering. Encouragement cards can be sent to her at:
